- Since the formats are electronically set we cannot print Quick Care™ labels in any other layout than those shown below.
- Lettering for content and country of origin information is all CAPITALS. Care instruction is Upper/Lower case as shown below.
- We can use only the two type sizes shown on the printed samples below. (6 point for care/content copy and 8 POINT BOLD for garment size designations) No other size of type, font, layout or spacing is available, to be priced as a QuickCare™ label.
- QuickCare™ labels are 1" wide with a maximum of 19 characters/spaces/punctuation per line; 17 characters for content information.
- QuickCare™ labels can have a maximum of (14) lines of copy (includes MADE IN USA, if desired on the label) PLUS the garment size designation (if on the label). Due to the set formats, we cannot extend the maximum lines to (15) by leaving the size designation off.
- It is suggested that you do not use periods to end sentences since care label instructions are phrases, and are well known. Do use commas within sentences, though, as we've done here, if needed for clarity.

QUICKCARE™ PRINTED CARE LABELS

PLEASE NOTE: QuickCare™ labels will not withstand cotton dye! If you purchase QuickCare™ labels for use in garments that are finished using cotton dyeing, stone washing, commercial laundering, or any other severe finishing process, Northwest Tag & Label accepts no liability for their use under such conditions. Therefore, testing is the user's responsibility. Call us at (503) 234-1054 for advice on alternate label materials.

Why don't we mail packages? Mailing your label order sends it out with no method of tracking the package. If it doesn't arrive at your place of business, and you call to check on delivery, we have no way of finding out where the package is or when it may be delivered, if ever. Together, we then have the difficulty of sorting out who is responsible for a package that hasn't arrived and may, or may not be lost.

Northwest Tag & Label ships hundreds of packages daily. The only workable shipping method is one that picks up at our printing facility, allows constant tracking of a package from our door to yours and provides insurance against loss; as well as a definitive method of determining when a package is lost so a replacement shipment can be made. UPS is the cost effective way to ship small packages that meets the above criteria. Packages are electronically scanned at Northwest Tag & Label, then scanned at each stop throughout the delivery path to you. That information is readily available via our Internet connection so we can tell you exactly where your package is, and approximately when it will be delivered.

With the tracking number and an Internet connection, you can even track the package yourself. Just ask us to email the UPS tracking number when the package ships.

Terms & Conditions of Sale

By completing this form and submitting an order to Northwest Tag & Label, Inc. customer agrees to the following terms and conditions of sale: Northwest Tag & Label reserves the right to decline any order. Defective or incorrectly shipped labels will be replaced as quickly as possible in a businesslike manner upon demonstration to NWTL of such a condition. Reshipment of replacement labels will be made by UPS 2nd Day Air. (U.S. only) While every effort is made to remain within delivery guidelines, NWTL assumes no responsibility for specific ship dates. Any ship date given can only be a projection and may vary due to circumstances beyond our control. Limit of liability to Northwest Tag & Label may extend only to the replacement of defective or incorrect labels and cannot exceed that cost. Customer agrees to repackage defective or incorrect labels for pickup by UPS, as directed by NWTL.
